Scholarship applications: review and decide

John O'Rourke noted that the Select Board has more than $13,000 to give out; he used the total of $12,500, and everyone within $1,000 and 1,500. Robert Baker said that he listed it by rank, but not money, and proposed stopping funding for one long-term applicant. Jim Moore said that the applicant in questions is a graduate student, which is why it has been more than 4 years. John O'Rourke listed his proposals for each student. Jim Moore would prefer to give something to the graduate student; JOR proposed $500; all agreed. Robert Baker mentioned #8 as very deserving, considering his circumstances; JOR proposed $2,000.

Final amounts (by number assigned to applicant):

1. 1,000
2. 1,500
3. 1,500
4. 1,500
5. 500
6. 1,000
7. 1,250
8. 2,000
9. 1,000
10. 1,000

This makes a total of 12,050.

On a motion from JOR to grant these amounts, seconded by Moore, the vote was unanimous in favor.
